

What's your New Year's resolution?

Asked at Saturday peace vigil in downtown Chico

Linda Furr
retired teacher

To concentrate on the few very important things in my life. To sort of get rid of the extras.

Bob Van Fleet
retired disability specialist

I want to continue working with the Chico Housing Action Team to find housing for the homeless. Also, to find common ground with people saying NIMBY [and] preventing people from being housed.

Haley Myers
college student

To stay focused and stay on track. My third year at Chico State is the biggest because I'm picking a major: biological sciences. It is the field of the future.

Sharon Fritz
retired/part-time housekeeper

I don't normally make New Year's resolutions, but I keep telling myself I'm going to write more letters to the editor in support of peace.

Learn how to get EQUITY like returns with the FDIC protection of a Certificate of Deposit (CD).

Give your CD rates a Raise!

The Net Real Return on traditional Bank CDs after taxes and inflation often result in negative returns. Market-Linked CDs may stay ahead of taxes and inflation while providing the same level of FDIC Insurance coverage and principal guarantee when held to maturity.

- Market exposure with no risk of principal loss when held to maturity
- Issued by Large National Banks
- FDIC Insurance Coverage up to the statutory limit

Market-linked CDs are typically longer-term investments. FDIC insurance is subject to FDIC limits. Principal invested in excess of FDIC limits is not insured and is subject to the credit risk of the issuer. Principal protection only applies if the CDs are held to maturity. If not held to maturity, a market-linked CD is subject to market risk, and trading in the secondary market may be thin or even nonexistent, and the price per CD may be less than par. Total payment at maturity may be less than what would be received if you had invested in the underlying asset(s) directly. Some market-linked CDs may limit participation in the underlying asset(s). Market Linked CD returns may vary from the indices' or assets' actual performance. Additional risks may apply based on the specific issue.
