

Would you time travel?

Asked at Women's March, downtown Chico

Kevin Killion
community activist

I might go to the birth of modern agriculture and sabotage that. That's one of the biggest points where humans changed from being one with nature and more egalitarian, to more hierarchy-based to protect things like food supplies. That might have been one of the big forks in the road, so I might go back then and mess things up.

Steve O'Bryan
bike shop owner

I'd go back to when Apple stock was $27, around the early '80s. It's worth a lot of money now, and I know people who bought it and are doing quite well.

Terry Ridenour
retired

I'd go back to the '60s, the hippie days—and I do mean “daze.” The Vietnam protests, going to San Francisco every Sunday to see my grandparents.

Gabriel Fairchild
student/tutor

I would either go 2,000 years into the future to see what was going on, or I would go back to the Aztec Empire because I had a recurring dream that I was being sacrificed.

Best Boss

Do you have a GREAT BOSS?

If so, the CN&R wants to hear from you. For our annual Business Issue, we're looking for nominations for local bosses who deserve recognition for going above and beyond to treat their employees right and make their businesses rewarding places to work. Those chosen will be featured in an upcoming issue of the CN&R.

Employees: Please tell us three things that make your boss so terrific. Be specific. And also tell us how we can contact him or her. Send nominations with “Best Boss” in the subject line to cnrletters@newsreview.com.
