Whenever I eat food, I kind of move my shoulders along with my whole body and smile. It's a good time. People think it's weird and ask, 'Why are you moving so much?' Because food makes me happy.

I live alone and like to pee outside every day, but where no one can see me. The cold air hits my bladder and makes me pee.

I love drinking pickle juice, even with a straw sometimes. It's delicious, even before a game because people say a shot of pickle juice helps your athleticism, but I don't know how true that is.
