

How are you coping during coronavirus crisis?

Asked Tuesday in downtown Chico

Tedra Thomsen
copywriter

I have not changed my routine. I feel that I'm way too healthy to worry about it. I'll go crazy staying at home.

Jason Andrew
mortgage writer

It's a little crazy. I'm just trying to do one day at a time and see what happens next. But it's definitely different—waking up every morning and saying, "What else is shut down?"

Alex Light
musician/delivery driver

I think time with your close friends and your cat is really important, so that's what I'm doing. And I'm trying to get enough sleep.

Colin Cone
cook

So far, so good. I haven't really seen any impacts for me and my life right now, but I am worried about the foreseeable future.

Market-linked CDs are typically longer-term investments. FDIC insurance is subject to FDIC limits. Principal invested in excess of FDIC limits is not insured and is subject to the credit risk of the issuer. Principal protection only applies if the CDs are held to maturity. If not held to maturity, a market-linked CD is subject to market risk, and trading in the secondary market may be thin or even nonexistent, and the price per CD may be less than par. Total payment at maturity may be less than what would be received if you had invested in the underlying asset(s) directly. Some market-linked CDs may limit participation in the underlying asset(s). Market Linked CD returns may vary from the indices' or assets' actual performance. Additional risks may apply based on the specific issue. May not be suitable for all investors. Investors should carefully read the related term sheet and prospectus and/or disclosure statement before investing. Structured product CDs may be treated differently than traditional CDs for tax purposes and investors should consult their tax advisors.
