Our Story

For ten years, Inspire School of Arts and Sciences has taken a unique approach to high school education -- one that challenges students to step outside their comfort zones while offering a supportive environment to try, fail, and try again. As a result, our students graduate with a stronger sense of self, the ability to think critically, and new skills and passions to share with the world.

Inspire has been providing a state-of-the-art educational program in a less than ideal situation - in portables behind another high school. It is time for a 21st century campus to meet our 21st century approach to educating students.
