

Your definition of a “best day?”

Asked in downtown Chico

Pritam Chakraborty
student

For me, a best day would look like: meeting with people that you really love and having fun with them. And, doing anything that you love. I love to play soccer. I love to paint. I love to go on adventures anywhere.

Melissa Glover
dental office manager

No work. Food, friends and fun. Recreation outdoors: camping, fishing, going to the ocean.

Ariana Lopez
student

Doing something that makes me really happy—like hanging out with friends, playing my favorite sports like softball.

Chris Allen craft store employee

One where I have free time. I'm trying to learn how to do computer programming, so if I have time during the day to devote to that. If it's a day that I'm learning, then that's a good day.

GUEST COMMENT

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

For fire victims, a PG&E-caused fire and corresponding loss of stock value would be catastrophic.

The fire victims' trust fund must stop playing with our money. Administrators should move quickly to sell as many shares of PG&E stock as fast as possible without causing a significant drop in value. The trust fund represents victims. Our attorneys need to send a strong message to the trust to stop taking risks with our money. □ watershed, now is the time to protect them. Protection doesn't restrict existing access or prevent forest health work, fire fighting and post-fire restoration.

LETTERS CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4

Explore Friends of Plumas Wilderness website (plumaswilderness.org) and join the field trip series to learn more about increasing protections.

Darla DeRuiter
Quincy

Editor's note: The author is the executive director of Friends of Plumas Wilderness.

Grateful for Joe

Right-wing pundits discuss President Biden's "dementia" as fact. These folks were not concerned when their President Trump was throwing spaghetti sauce against White House dining room walls or ignoring the COVID-19 threat. But they like to spread rumors about any Democratic president.

Joe Biden continues his presidential duties in orderly fashion, meeting each problem as it occurs with intelligence and logic. We owe this president a debt of gratitude for bringing common sense back to Washington after a chaotic four years of Trump.

Appreciate President Biden's steady leadership. He will get us through the severe challenges.

Robert Woods
Forest Ranch

Write a letter

Tell us what you think in a letter to the editor. Send submissions of 200 or fewer words to cnrletters@newsreview.com. Deadline for October 6 print publication is September 26.

SIXTY YEARS

OF THE

SOUNDS OF SUMMER

PRESENTED BY CHICO PERFORMANCES

WEDNESDAY
SEPTEMBER 7 • 7:30 PM
LAXSON AUDITORIUM
CSU CHICO

TICKETS: CHICOPERFORMANCES.COM
(530) 898-6333

Chico
PERFORMANCES

GET YOUR OFFICIAL BEACH BOYS TOUR MERCH
AT SHOP.THEBEACHBOYS.COM/COLLECTIONS/MERCH