

Do you still consume print media?

Asked in downtown Chico

Dylan Tellessen artist

Maybe not. I mean, I read books, but as far as media—not in print. Most of the media I get is online.

Will Brady
restaurantier

Gosh, it's terrible. Fact of the matter is, I'm more likely to only if it's free. [The CNR] is some of the last stuff I did consume in that regard. The crossword going onto the New York Times [online] platform was probably, in my case, the worst thing that ever happened because now I just have it on my [smart phone].

Jessica Meek
server

Yeah. Sometimes I'll pick up a magazine or a paper. I do lots of collaging, too.

Adil Syed
graduate student

Probably the only time would be at coffee shops, and when I'm waiting for coffee and there's a stand of CNR's there.

without incurring financial hardship. Our country has the paradoxical honor of having both the worst healthcare outcomes as well as the highest out-of-pocket medical expenses of any other high-income country in the world.

It is long past time that we joined the rest of the world's high-income nations in adopting a universal health coverage system.

Kascha Wilson
Chico

'Stop this insanity'

As we have celebrated the birth of the Prince of Peace this season, we are faced with endless wars and misery around the world. It may seem remote to Chico citizens, but our tax dollars go toward financing the weapons that destroy lives everywhere—but even worse, it is costing us morally. During a recent interview with two young men, one Jewish, the other Muslim, on the Amanpour & Company show on PBS recently, the men—best friends—expressed beautifully the fact that we are all one. They reminded us that most people, whatever their religion or politics, just want to live in peace and security.

The atrocious and viscous attacks on civilians in Gaza, and other conflicts around the world, are the result of cruel, self-interested, leadership. Murdering the innocent is not the solution to any problem. Behind these attacks are either smoldering anger and resentment over years and years of maltreatment that explodes into violence, or pure greed and lust for power, land, or resources, dolled up to look righteous.

Due to these conflicts, prejudice rears its ugly head leading to violence toward our Jewish and Muslim friends, who are wonderful and charitable people. We mustn't blame anyone for the actions of their leaders.

Let's pray for peace, and take action wherever and whenever we can and pressure heads of state to stop this insanity.

Jeanne Thatcher
Chico

Write a letter

Tell us what you think in a letter to the editor. Send submissions of 200 or fewer words to cnrletters@newsreview.com.

24TH ANNUAL

SNOW GOOSE FESTIVAL

OF THE PACIFIC FLYWAY

Thursday–Sunday, January 25–28, 2024

Snow Goose Festival Headquarters:
Patrick Ranch Museum
10381 Midway, Chico-Durham

There is still time to sign up for field trips, workshops
& banquet at the Snow Goose Festival of the Pacific Flyway
www.snowgoosefestival.org | 530-592-9092

"Avian Art" Exhibit & Friday Reception

Museum of Northern California Art (monca) 900 Esplanade, Chico, CA

ART EXHIBIT SHOWING: JANUARY 26 – MARCH 3, 2024

RECEPTION: FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 2024 | 5:00PM–8:00 PM (FREE)

You are invited to attend the very popular Snow Goose Festival "Avian Art" Reception, Friday, January 26, 5:00 pm–8:00 pm. View the inspiring collection of artworks, enjoy refreshments, splendid conversations, and a no-host bar. Bring a friend and meet the artists, along with fellow festival participants, and field trip leaders.

"Gathering of Wings"

BANQUET & SILENT AUCTION with Keynote Speakers

Bryce & Brita Lundberg, Lundberg Family Farms

SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 5:30PM – 9:30PM

Bell Memorial Union, Chico State University

Don't miss the biggest event of the Snow Goose Festival, our "Gathering of Wings" Banquet. This treasured evening is a mix of great food, great company, and great entertainment and is anticipated by many as the one chance each year they have to visit and catch up with fellow birders and friends in the community. Join field trip leaders, and all our hard-working committee members and volunteers in celebrating this special evening.

Exhibitors & Family Activities (FREE)

SAT- SUN, JANUARY 27 - 28

EXHIBITS 9:00AM – 4:00PM

FAMILY ACTIVITIES 10:00AM – 3:00PM

Patrick Ranch Museum

Displays by State, Federal, and Non-profit organizations, plus binoculars to bird books to Snow Goose Festival gear for sale, too. For family and youth there will be nature games, live bats, crafts, plus more!

ALTACAL AUDUBON SOCIETY