

including black cherry, root beer, lemonade and ginger ale.

CBD, the second most abundant cannabinoid extracted from the cannabis plant, isn't intoxicating either. It's known by the cannabis industry to be a powerful anti-inflammatory, pain-relieving agent and a mood relaxer.

For a quenching beverage after a long day of work, Jub Jub's simply mixes Sparkling CBD Lemonade with vodka over ice. Nothing complicated, just the good stuff.

THC-INFUSED BEVERAGES

If you're not into consuming alcohol or smoking cannabis, perhaps liquid edibles will better suit your needs. At The Dispensary NV, customers can purchase CannaPunch products in a variety of flavors, including watermelon nectar and pineapple mango delight. They're non-alcoholic, but contain THC, the main intoxicating ingredient in cannabis. The Colorado-based company behind CannaPunch also designed the products to be vegan, organic and contain no corn syrup, gluten or soy.

Each bottle is non-carbonated, and the cannabis taste is rather discrete and barely noticeable behind the potent fruity flavor. Although the drinks don't indicate whether they're sativa or indica dominant, each bottle contains 100mg of THC. CannaPunch is delicious by itself or can be a great mixer with any soda or juice. Each bottle also comes with a measuring cup to ensure that you're consuming the recommended serving of THC.

For a carbonated beverage option, The Dispensary NV also carries Keef Life Soda. Like CannaPunch, each bottle contains 100mg of THC. For sativa lovers, cranberry lime is your go-to. For indica fans, blueberry lemon is your key to relaxation.

CBD CAFE

If you're looking for a stress-reducing way to start your morning, add CBD to any beverage of your choice at Pianissimo Coffee & More. In addition to the store's CBD chocolates and CBD body butter, customers can choose to add in a few drops of CBD oil to any drink from smoothies to lattes for an extra charge. According to barista Lexi Fox, the CBD oil Pianissimo puts into coffee drinks is intended to get rid of stress and contains anti-inflammatory properties.

Adding CBD to your drink won't change the taste or aroma of your coffee since baristas only add in a few drops. Fox said that the most popular drinks ordered with CBD are Pianissimo's white mocha, flavored lattes and espresso drinks. Although CBD lattes won't get you high, customers need to be at least 18 years of age to order beverages with CBD. □
