

ASKED AT THE SUNDAY FARMER'S MARKET AT 8TH AND X:
Is Sac doing enough on homelessness?

SIM LANTIN
state worker

Not really, because I work downtown and I see a lot of homeless people still on the streets ... It's just a lot of trash, too, and you see people peeing sometimes.

MICHAEL MARKS
media personality

If you just look around and drive around downtown, there's too many people homeless. It's a crime that we have veterans ... [and] women and children that are homeless.

consultant

I think it goes a little bit beyond the city. The first thing to do is work on affordable housing for the homeless, and by affordable housing, I mean some government and state-type sponsored housing.

retired

I really do. I feel our heart's in the right place, we're moving in the right direction. It's a huge thing, and we're probably not going fast enough. But I don't think a big city can move much faster.

ROSE NELSENADOR
veterinarian

That's a hard question. I see the homeless all over the place. I know that [the city is] trying to do things. But I haven't seen any real changes in the parts that I see every day.

RENAE BEST
market organizer

I think our mayor, that's like his main topic. But the results ... I'm not seeing any yet.
